

Flow chart for a new business partner

- The party becomes a registered business partner with our company once they have entered into a basic supply and purchase agreement.
 - In order to make sure that all procurement is impartial, fair and transparent, basic supply and purchase agreements entered with business partners are all identical.
 - As a rule, our company cannot have separate transaction with any company that cannot enter into the agreements.
 - Listed below are the main contents of the basic supply and purchase agreement, however, terms are not limited to these four items.
1. Any and all disputes regarding the basic supply and purchase agreement shall be handled by Tokyo District Court or Tokyo Summary Court as the exclusive agreement jurisdictional court.
 2. Any transaction shall be carried out in Japanese unless otherwise specified by our company.
 3. Following delivery to our company, a liaison office shall be in set up and maintained that can respond at any time (24 hours-a-day, including holidays) to an emergency or product malfunction, for as long as the product in being used.
 4. Any deliverables following manufacturing of product shall be attributed to our company.
